

Lamington Church, Lamington, South Lanarkshire

Fixed Price £50,000

Postcode: ML12 6HW

Development Opportunity

Lamington Church, Lamington, South Lanarkshire

Former Kirk in pleasing South Lanarkshire village

The former Lamington Church lies in the village of Lamington opposite the local primary school at the edge of the small settlement. An historic building, thought to date from 1721 when it was constructed to replace an earlier twelfth-century structure. Lamington itself is a conservation village, which was reputedly home of Marion Braidfute, wife of none other than Sir William Wallace. The building comes with appropriate rights of access and it is sold as a development opportunity, subject to appropriate consents being obtained.

;
Ua_ bdeW

? S[ ebSUW /# 2&_ j
' 2&+_ fi
>S[d]ye >aX ad TS\la` k
/2Z#_ j ' 2&+_ fi
5'aS] cha_ /#z(_ j
#( _ fi
? [ leVde W foS UW$Z#_ j
j #2)_ fi
DVSdhVef[TgW /#2' &_ j
$Z' *_ fi S` V
5gbTaSdV aXX hVef[TgW
/#2+_ j "' &_ fZ

H[W [ Y

Viewing is by appointment with the selling agents.

Notes

The building comes with appropriate rights of access and it is sold as a development opportunity, subject to appropriate consents being obtained. No warranties are provided.